Welcome to Wallowa County

News Release Date 02-27-2024

Surrounded by the Eagle Cap Wilderness, glacial lakes, working ranches, and the wide open spaces of Eastern Oregon, it is considered one of the Seven Wonders of Oregon and the gateway to Hells Canyon.

Wallowa County is located in the far northeast corner of Oregon and is bordered by the states of Washington and Idaho. It is home to Hells Canyon National Recreation Area, Wallowa Lake, and the Eagle Cap Wilderness Area.

Wallowa County is known for its natural beauty, pristine landscapes, outdoor recreation, farm and agriculture, artist community, the Nez Perce tribe, and small-town living. Our rural and frontier remoteness makes Wallowa County unique.

For more information on Wallowa County and its offerings to residents and visitors, CLICK HERE to visit the Wallowa County Chamber of Commerce.